DAVIS ANNOUNCES MILLER AS SUBCOMMITTEE CHAIRWOMAN

Miller Will Head Subcommittee on Regulatory Affairs

Washington, D.C. – House Government Reform Committee Chairman Tom Davis (R-VA) today announced that Rep. Candice Miller (R-MI) will serve as Chairwoman of the Subcommittee on Regulatory Affairs.

This new Subcommittee will have jurisdiction over all matters relating to regulatory reform, Congressional review, the cost of regulation, paperwork reduction measures, and all matters relating to the oversight of tax policy. Regulatory matters should be in sharp focus this year as Congress debates the re-authorization of the Paperwork Reduction Act.

“Candice Miller is a rising star in Congress with a long history of public service, and she will be a great Chairwoman for this important Subcommittee,” Davis said. “This post will allow Chairwoman Miller to play a key role in our regulatory and paperwork reform efforts this year. I am excited to be working with her.”

Congresswoman Miller said: “I am very gratified by the confidence shown to me by Chairman Davis in asking me to lead this important sub-committee. This committee will have jurisdiction in assuring that the federal government is not an impediment to our citizens or our economy. I am excited to get to work.”
